

College of Science and Technology Week for 2nd to 8th of March

---

Covenant University's College of Science and Technology (CST) is set to celebrate its Annual College Week, which has been tagged: "XTRORD 2014," from March 2nd to 8th, 2014.

The weeklong celebration will kick off with a Church service on Sunday, March 2 and round off with a Variety Night and Praise Jamz on Saturday, March 8, 2014.

Activities lined up for the commemoration of CST week include Sci-Tech Exhibition of the College to be organized in conjunction with the Institute of Electrical and Electronics Engineering to highlight the ingenuity of Covenant University community and external context in the area of Science and Technology.

Vice-Chancellor, Covenant University, Professor Charles K. Ayo making his remarks at the meeting

---

Also on the card for the event is the Annual College Week Conference with the theme: 'We-nnovation.'

According to the organizers, the conference would avail faculty, staff and students of the college a forum for celebrating ideas, brands and their success stories. Moreover, opportunities would be created for young achievers to interact with role models towards teaching them the rudiments of turning challenges to success.

'Cerebro,' an Intellectual quiz competition that cut across all field of learning including academics, current affairs, basic knowledge and spiritual prowess, will be used to engage students' wits.

In addition to all these, there will be sporting activities, a fund raising event, a variety night, praise jamz and awards to round off the event.

---

02/25/2014 04:33 pm